CONVICTED: Muhaydin Mire may have been inspired by extremist ideology, say police

Man guilty of Tube knife attack

A MAN has been convicted of attempted murder and attempted wounding following a knife attack at Leytonstone Tube station.

Muhaydin Mire, 30, of Sansom Road, Leytonstone, was convicted of attempted murder at the Old Bailey on Wednesday, June 8.

He had earlier pleaded guilty to four counts of attempted wounding.

Jurors heard Mire launched an unpredicted, unprovoked and brutal attack on a fellow male passenger.

He beat his victim to the ground, repeatedly kicked him in the head and tried to cut his neck with a knife. He left the station but walked back in and lashed out at people, before chasing a passenger who was filming him.

Commander Dean Haydon, of the Counter Terrorism Command unit, said: "Whilst Mire has not been accused of any terrorist offences, it would appear from comments he made at the time of the attack and the content he had downloaded on his phone that he may have been inspired by extremist ideology."

Mire's unprovoked knife attack at the station on December 5 last year spawned the anti-terrorist catchphrase "You ain't no Muslim, bruv", based on a comment made by an onlooker at the scene.

Police officers subdued Mire with a taser before arresting him.

Mire will be sentenced at the Old Bailey on July 27.

THE WRATH OF KHAN

Mayor declares war on air quality 'ticking timebomb' as report shows vulnerable most likely to suffer lung disease

LONDON Mayor Sadiq Khan will begin his crackdown on air pollution in east London this month.

He has outlined a detailed plan for diesel car scrappage and extending clear air zones. It follows a new report by the British Lung Foundation showing people living in Barking and Dagenham, Redbridge and Waltham Forest are more likely to suffer lung illness due to car fumes.

Mr Khan said: "This deeply concerning report shines a light on the huge health inequalities in London, as well as how poor air quality is a ticking timebomb for our health, particularly for Londoners in the most deprived parts of the city."

"I am determined to get to grips with health inequalities in harder-to-reach groups and in London's most vulnerable communities – something the previous mayor dismally failed to do."

- Extending the ultra-low emission zones and implementing an extra charge on the most polluting vehicles from 2017.

- Giving the go-ahead for Transport for London (TfL) to start work on the costs of implementing a diesel scrappage scheme as part of a wider national scheme delivered by the Government.

- Proposals to work with the Government to tackle air pollution on a national and international level.

The mayor has also joined a High Court challenge of the Government's air pollution plans as an Interested Party. Environmental lawyers ClientEarth are suing the Government for the second time in a year, having won a case at the Supreme Court in 2015, which ordered ministers to fulfil their legal duty to cut pollution in "the shortest time possible". The new case argues the government is still failing to do this.

His view is that London can meet the legal standards for NO2 (nitrogen dioxide) well before 2025, which is the date the Government's Air Quality Action Plan projects London will be compliant.

Dr Penny Woods, chief executive of the British Lung Foundation, said: "We know that air pollution can have a detrimental effect on the health of our most vulnerable citizens both today and tomorrow and could cause lasting damage."

"It's a worry for everyone, making existing lung problems worse, increasing our risk of lung cancer and early death. We must all play a part in reducing harmful pollution."

"We are pleased to see that the mayor is taking action to reduce pollution in London."

PLEDGE: Sadiq Khan

Thousands of Londoners die every year because of polluted air according to latest research.

London does not meet the legal requirements for pollutants such as NO2 and research by the World Health Organisation last month shows the city has breached safe levels of pollutant particles known as PM10s.

Last month, the mayor laid bare the full extent of London's air quality crisis when he revealed that his predecessor failed to publish a major report that demonstrated that 433 schools in the capital are located in areas that exceed EU limits for nitrogen dioxide pollution – and that four-fifths of those are in deprived areas.

School kids up their pace to Beat the Street

YOUNG people at nine schools in Waltham Forest are hoping to walk, cycle or scooter their way to success.

Schools are gearing up to take part in a fun and free exercise competition called Beat the Street.

The competition, which runs across Waltham Forest, Hackney, Tower Hamlets and Newham, sees 'beat boxes' positioned throughout the four boroughs for young people to use in order to log their activity. They do so by tapping a competition card or fob on the machine as they walk, cycle or scooter past – earning points for themselves and their team.

Last year, Waltham Forest triumphed in the competition, with St Joseph's Junior School, in Leyton, covering a team distance of more than 15,000 miles and finishing top of the leader board ahead of all other participating schools.

And to start the competition off in style this year, Waltham Forest Council's public health team was due to host a launch event in collaboration with Leytonstone's Jenny Hammond Primary School on Thursday, June 9. There were games and competitions organised by Beat the Street, with the opportunity for schools to win bonus points to boost their scores.

Cllr Ahsan Khan, cabinet member for health and wellbeing, said: "We are absolutely committed to helping our schools improve health and wellbeing in their communities, and encouraging staff and parents to ditch the car and walk or cycle to school is very much part of this."

New exhibition about Wetlands

AN EXHIBITION is to tell the story of how Walthamstow Wetlands became the largest urban wetland nature reserve in Europe.

Water and Life: The Story of Walthamstow Wetlands, based at Vestry House Museum, reveals the history of the site through drawings, photographs, maps and archaeological finds.

Once home to woolly mammoths, it played a crucial role in the incredible growth of Victorian London when East London Water Company created 10 reservoirs on the site.

Steven Swaby, Wetlands curator for Waltham Forest Council, said: "Water and Life gives us access to the secret past of a little-known corner of Walthamstow, across a thousand years or more. It reveals the vital role the reservoirs played in the rapid growth of Victorian London – and what a feat of engineering, manpower and sheer determination that involved."

"It also gives us glimpses into the area's ancient past: Ice Age mammoths, Stone Age hunters, Roman farmers and Anglo-Saxon warriors – they all left their mark in time here by the banks of the River Lea, in wild landscapes far removed from our modern urban environment."

"It's been a pleasure discovering more about the genuinely rich and

LIVING HISTORY: the museum uncovers Walthamstow's secret past surprising history of the site, and there remains a lot more still to tell when the Wetlands Centre opens next year."

The borough's reservoirs are internationally recognised havens for wildlife and the largest fishery in the Capital, as well as a source of drinking water for millions of Londoners.

A major Lottery-funded project is underway to transform the site into a distinctive urban wetland reserve with a café, education centre, exhibition spaces and a viewing terrace.

The project has been spearheaded by the council, which secured £4.47million of funds from the Heritage Lottery Fund last year. They have further supplemented this with just over £1m, with another £1.84m from site owners Thames Water and £750,000 from the Greater London Authority.

The new site will open to the public in spring 2017. The exhibition at Vestry House offers a sneak preview.

Cllr Chris Robbins, leader of Waltham Forest Council, said: "The opening up of Walthamstow Wetlands will bring huge environmental and cultural benefits to the people of Waltham Forest and the wider east London community. This compelling exhibition puts the project into historical context, revealing the site's rich natural and social heritage."

The exhibition will be on until October 16. Free entry.

College 'cops' win top award

A COLLEGE security team has won an award for keeping students and staff safe.

All five individuals at Redbridge College, in Barley Lane, Romford, scooped the prestigious British Security Industry Association's Regional Security Personnel Award for the 'Best Team' in London.

Judges commended their 'exceptional service' during a ceremony held at the college restaurant, Rouge, on Friday.

A college spokesman said: "They have been at the forefront of the college's drive to help students to be more aware of the benefits of contributing to a safer and stronger community and to contribute to providing a safe environment for staff and students."

The team will now be put forward to the national judging phase of the awards. If they are successful in the second round of judging, they will be invited to attend the BSIA's Annual Lunch on July 12, in London, where they will be presented with the national award.

Gerry McDonald, interim principal at Redbridge College said: "I am pleased our security team has received recognition for their work in helping to maintain the college's welcoming and safe environment, which was recognised by Ofsted in its recent inspection report."

Students' fun run raises £5,000 for kid's hospital

Fight fans remember when Ali came to Essex 'I felt I had been touched by God'

FIGHT fans have shared their memories of the day Muhammad Ali came to the UK for a heavyweight contest featuring Frank Bruno.

The legend, who died last week, visited Essex in July 1986 ahead of the World Heavyweight Championship fight between American Tim Witherspoon and British contender Frank Bruno, who lived in Brentwood.

Ali flew in to watch the bout and visited ex-sparring partner Witherspoon at the Crest Hotel in Basildon, where the Holiday Inn now stands at the Festival Leisure Park, where the fighter was staying with his entourage.

Wickford councillor David Harrison, then chairman of the council, was entertaining visitors from Basildon's German twin town at the hotel when Ali arrived. He said: "They were amazed. They turned up for dinner with me and they got him. I knew Tim Witherspoon was staying there, but then our meal got delayed and suddenly Muhammad Ali walked in with Don King. He was a real gent."

Fitness instructor Gary Mott, from Upminster, wrote on Facebook that he was a security guard at the hotel that day.

He said: "When he reaches the door, I open the door for him. I say, 'Good afternoon sir, welcome to the Crest Hotel'. Silence. Ali just kind of breaks into a gentle smile, then takes my right arm and raises it like in a bicep pose. He squeezes my bicep, puts my arm back down by my side, gently taps me on the shoulder three times and proceeds to slowly walk on. "No words spoken, but his actions speak louder than words. I felt I had been touched by God."

"While he stayed in the hotel I had the pleasure of meeting him and my son sat on his lap whilst he performed magic tricks for him."

"It was all a magical experience that I'll never forget."

Former Yellow Advertiser reporter Matthew Stanton was photographed with Ali that afternoon. He said: "I have no memory of it, just the photo, which was taken by my dad. He said Ali held me and kissed me."

A day later Cllr Harrison met Ali again. He said: "We had given Tim Witherspoon a little carved wooden pot from one of the units at Wat Tyler Country Park as a present and Ali said, 'I want one as well', so we went back the next day and gave it to him. I told him I was raising money for St Luke's Hospice, which was just starting up, and said, 'Any chance of a donation?'" Don King looked at one of his people and said, 'Give the man a thousand dollars'."

Human chain to map out abbey

MEMBERS of Waltham Abbey Historical Society are appealing for help to show the outline of the town's former abbey in an unusual way.

They will be forming a human chain marking the outline of the ruins of the Abbey of Waltham in Abbey Gardens on Saturday, June 11.

The event will start with a procession through the town, at 10.30am in Cornmill car park and those interested in taking part can join members of the society there or meet at Abbey Gardens at 11am.

The event aims to forge new links with Waltham Abbey's past and commemorate the arrival of the Holy Cross.

Last year the event was joined by 400 people, but to show the true outline the society needs 3,000 people.

Society member Clive Simpson said: "The event also tells the story of the Danelaw, set up by Alfred The Great in 878, to divide the country between the Vikings and the Saxons. This meant that Essex came under Danish rule until 1015 when the whole country came under the Danish King Canute.

"The legend of the Holy Cross tells how Canute's right hand man used the will of God to bring 66 Saxons back over the Danelaw boundary in 1036 into Waltham – the abbey came much later, by crossing the Danelaw boundary of the River Lee at Waltham."

During the event the society will mark out the outlines of five churches from 600AD through to Henry VIII's time, when the abbey was demolished.

Clive adds: "Along with his abbey apartments, Henry had a private pleasurehouse in Waltham Abbey where he bought his women including Anne Boleyn, usually by private barge along the River Lee to the moorings at the back of the house. When the abbey fell the Holy Cross disappeared although members of the historical society believe it may be buried under the adjacent car park."

Tyre retailer is UK's first to adopt new safety guidelines

Only two per cent of part-worn tyres are sold legally

Grove Road Tyres, in Chadwell Heath, has become the first tyre retailers in the country to adopt a new protocol aimed at giving consumers confidence that the part-worn tyres they are buying are safe and roadworthy, not dangerous and illegal.

With 98 per cent of part worn tyres being sold failing to meet basic regulations, the new guidelines are being introduced to improve standards, share good practice and improve road safety across Essex and the rest of the UK.

The new protocol – launched

“This new protocol will ensure retailers selling second-hand tyres follow industry best practice, which will in turn draw attention to those who do not by the Tyre Recovery Association (TRA) – demonstrates to consumers that the part-worn tyres they are purchasing have been through rigorous safety checks to ensure they are roadworthy and fit for purpose.

Peter Craven, who has worked in the tyre industry for 45 years and opened Grove Road Tyres 40 years ago, said: "As a member of the Tyre Recovery Association, we were delighted to trial the new protocol which shows consumers that the part-worn tyres they are buying are of the best quality. Whether you are driving a Ford Fiesta or a Rolls Royce, ensuring part-worn tyres meet safety and legal requirements is paramount."

"Every member of our tyre team has been trained to follow the protocol, which is a series of good practice and safety checks. We are independently audited and assessed, and the certificate of accreditation we receive will be displayed for all our customers to see so they can be assured we meet the highest quality standards."

Grove Road Tyres sells upwards of 300 fully examined part-worn tyres each week. Every year, it is estimated that more than 10 million UK drivers are driving on the roads with illegal tyres – a figure that has trebled in recent years.

Part-worn tyres can provide an effective alternative to new tyres, subject to them meeting a number of criteria. Completing the new TRA protocol demonstrates the part-worn tyre being checked is the best quality and meets critical legal requirements.

Peter Taylor, secretary general of the TRA, said: "Tyres are a vehicle's primary safety feature. Alarming, only two per cent of part-worn tyres are sold legally. "The sale of part-worn tyres that do not meet legal requirements is not only a criminal offence under the Consumer Protection Act, but also a serious safety risk to drivers, their passengers and other road users. This new protocol will ensure retailers selling second-hand tyres follow industry best practice, which will in turn draw attention to those who do not.

■ Above: Grove Road Tyres recently received accreditation by the Tyre Recovery Association, marking them as a responsible retailer

"Congratulations to Grove Road Tyres from everyone at the TRA. It shows they are putting tyre safety first."

Network Rail is working on the Gospel Oak to Barking London Overground Line as part of TfL's improvement plan. This will enable new longer trains to run from 2018.

There will be no service between South Tottenham and Barking for the entire period.

At weekends services will not run between Gospel Oak and Barking.

Please use alternative Tube or rail routes, or rail replacement bus services and allow more time for your journey.

Office opens for volunteers to assist with 'clear need'

High Street gets volunteer centre

COMMUNITY: Shelley Hart with volunteer Mary O'Driscoll

A VOLUNTEER centre in Romford has celebrated its grand opening.

The Havering Volunteer Centre (HVC), in High Street, was set up by Shelley Hart in October 2015 following the closure of Havering Association of Voluntary and Community Organisations (Havco), the group that assisted the voluntary sector in Havering.

Shelley, who was volunteer centre and quality manager at Havco, said she decided to set up the new volunteer centre as there is a clear need for it in the borough.

She said: "The work that they [Havco] did, it was just very sad that they had to close. "Because there is a clear need and the volunteer centre was successful, we decided to branch out on our own as

Havering Volunteer Centre."

The HVC, which marked its grand opening on Thursday, June 2, has a team of 10 volunteers.

Shelley, who has worked in the voluntary sector since 2001, felt that it had been "very successful" so far.

She added that the HVC had more than 230 volunteers registered, with 60 or 70 organisations seeking volunteers.

Media Sales Executive

Yellow Advertiser has been published in this area and been a part of the community in Basildon since 1976.

An opportunity has arisen in our new Basildon office to join our busy sales team. We are looking for really exceptional individuals who can become part of our commercial division which we are currently expanding. The successful candidates will have many responsibilities in this varied sales role, giving priority to developing new business by cold calling and building relationships with prospective clients. To be successful in our business you need to have a flexible approach to work and be prepared to dig in and roll up your sleeves when the going gets a little bit tough.

A proven sales background is essential and we are looking for highly motivated individuals who are keen to learn and seek to earn. A good command of the English language and good writing skills are most definitely a prerequisite, as are good listening skills and computer literacy.

What is in it for you:

Basic Salary plus tiered bonus structure, 5 weeks holiday per annum, Pension Scheme after qualifying period, Fully expensed company car, On-going training.

If this sounds like the opportunity for you please email Vickywright@yellowad.co.uk with your current CV and the reasons why you match our requirements.

Previous applicants need not apply.

Yellow Advertiser is part of the Tindle Newspapers Ltd., a group of privately owned, independent, family newspapers.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:
1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.
2. 'Classified' Advertisements offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.
3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:
(a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
(b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
(c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.
4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.
5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reason the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.
6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.
7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.
8. All gross advertising rates (except classified lineage and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.
9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.
10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.
11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.
12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.
13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.
(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.
(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1994.
14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.
15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.
16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.
17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.
18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.
Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies. Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.
Holiday & Travel Category
All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.
Data Protection
The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.
Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Tindle Group Newspaper companies or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.
Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

RYDER TON MAKES IT TWO OUT OF TWO

Cricket

Royal London One-Day
Cup, 1st Central County Ground, Hove,

Sussex 271 (50 overs)

Essex 275/5 (49 overs)

Essex (2pts) won by 5 wickets

Brian Jeeves reports

NEW Zealander Jesse Ryder hit an impressive century as Essex recorded their second Royal London One-Day Cup, South Group victory in as many days, this time seeing off Sussex Sharks by five wickets at Hove.

After Essex offered the hosts the opportunity to bat first Chris Nash became their first victim, snared in the gloves of wicket-keeper James Foster off the bowling of New Zealander Matthew Quinn for nine.

Ed Joyce and Luke Wright got the scoreboard moving for Sussex, putting on 108 before Wright was stumped by Foster off Ashar Zaidi for 50.

Joyce followed soon after, caught Ashar Zaidi bowled David Masters for 73, a knock that included eight fours and a six.

Ashar Zaidi then claimed his second wicket of the afternoon.

Matt Machan was cheaply removed off the slow left-armer's bowling for just two, leaving the hosts floundering on 144/4.

But the steady partnership of Ross Taylor and Ben Brown helped Sussex to get past 200.

The pair put together a fifth wicket stand of 61.

But Brown eventually fell, caught Foster off Ryan ten Doeschate, while Taylor hit a 50 before becoming Quinn's second victim. Lawrence was the man displaying safe hands in the field as Essex put pay to the hosts' top order.

A flurry of late wickets saw Quinn continue to torment the hosts.

He finished with figures of 4/71 as Essex restricted the hosts to 271 from their 50 overs.

The Essex response started positively, with Tom Westley and Nick Browne putting together an opening stand of 67.

Westley's 110 on Sunday had helped Essex to a dramatic last-over victory over Hampshire at the Rose Bowl, Southampton, as they chased down 311 to win by three wickets.

Browne was the first of the openers to go, stumped by wicketkeeper Ben Brown, Beer was the beneficiary with the ball.

Westley soon followed, caught by George Garton off his own delivery for 32.

Ryder stood firm, hitting an impressive century while those around him fell cheaply.

His big-hitting stand included a partnership of 83 with ten Doeschate. The all-rounder eventually succumbed to Chris Jordan after a swashbuckling innings that included six fours and three sixes.

Dutchman ten Doeschate produced another notable knock, hitting an unbeaten 48 to help Essex over the line.

Ashar Zaidi swept Ajmal Shahzad to the boundary to secure Essex back-to-back victories on the road.

They now turn their attention to the NatWest T20 Blast, South Group, when they take on Middlesex at the Essex County Ground on Friday, June 10 (7pm).

Chelmsford bolster squad with signings

By Brian Jeeves

NATIONAL League South outfit Chelmsford City have added to their squad ahead of the new campaign with the signing of goalkeeper Joe Welsh from St Albans City and Hemel Hempstead Town defender Adam Bailey-Dennis.

Stopper Welsh started his career with Essex neighbours Southend United, but having failed to break into the Shrimpers first team he moved to Histon, where he made more than 50 appearances.

Bailey-Dennis began at Colchester United and had spells with Bromley, Bury Town and Concord Rangers.

Clarets fans' favourite Rory McAuley has departed the Melbourne Stadium, to link up with Ryman Premier Leaguers Lowestoft Town.

National League Dagenham & Redbridge have acquired the services of highly sought after Waltham Abbey striker Christian Assombalonga and promising young frontman Fejiri Okenabirhie.

Assombalonga, whose older brother Britt once enjoyed a successful loan period with Essex rivals Southend United before starting for Championship club Nottingham Forest, links up with the Daggers after bagging 31 goals in 34 matches for the Ryman League Division One North outfit.

Okenabirhie started his career as a youth with Arsenal before linking up with Stevenage in 2014 on a professional deal.

Loan spells with Bedford Town, Cambridge City, Royston and Farnborough followed, and after being released by the Sky Bet League Two club he had spells with Millwall's under-21 team, then Ryman Premier Leaguers Harrow Borough.

Daggers striker Christian Doidge has left the club to join fellow National League outfit Forest Green Rovers.

The 23-year-old Welshman made 23 appearances for the Daggers, scoring eight goals as they slipped out of the Football League last season.

Ryman Premier Division outfit Canvey Island have confirmed the signing of winger Jack Simmons from National League South club Dartford. The 21-year-old had originally arrived at Park Lane in 2014 from Leiston, making 32 appearances and winning the Gulls Supporters' Player of the Year. Simmons returned to Canvey last season for a six-match loan period but has now made the move permanent.

Ryman League Division One North new boys Bowers & Pitsea have announced that five of last season's Essex Senior League winning squad will be leaving the Len Salmon Stadium ahead of the new campaign.

Billy Sendall, Dan Trenkel, Jack Gardner, Chid Onokwai and Ross Adams will all be plying their trade elsewhere as boss Rob Small looks to reshape his side following Bowers first promotion in 42-years.

Former Great Wakering Rovers player-manager Trenkel will join ProKit UK Essex Olympian League club Catholic United, while Sendall, Gardner, Onokwai and Adams sighted work commitments and studying, coupled with the increased travelling in the Ryman League as to reasons for leaving the club.

Essex Senior League Basildon United have appointed Simon Kingdon as assistant manager to new boss Aaron Bloxham. The Bees have lined up a pre-season match with Spartan South Midland Premier League outfit Wembley on Saturday, July 30 (3pm) at Gardiners Close.

Basildon have also announced warm-up dates with ProKit UK Essex Olympian League clubs Old Southendian, on Saturday, July 16, Springfield, Saturday 23, while Catholic United will face a Bees XI on Saturday 30.

Prokit UK Essex Olympian Leaguers White Ensign have appointed Brett Munyard as their new manager. He joins the Southend-based side after leading Hannakins Farm to second place in the Brentwood Sunday League Premier Division as well as retaining the League Cup

Garon Park to host Women's ICC World Cup qualifier

REVAMPED Garon Park, home of Old Southendian & Southchurch Cricket Club, is to host several high profile fixtures over the coming weeks including a Women's ICC World Cup qualifier between Scotland and the Netherlands.

The match from Tuesday, July 12-15, is the standout event, with the countries also scheduled to meet in a Women's ECB one-day fixture on Sunday, July 10 (11am).

The Southend venue, which has staged festival cricket for both Essex and the Unicorns, has undergone improvements, boosting its ability to both cricket and football.

The Garon Park Community Interest Company is now responsible for the site, including the adjacent football pitches and the area bordered by the school and shopping area.

The progression has seen some 500 youth and adult football players and spectators use the ground most weekends.

The pavilion has been extended so that more than 40 people can be accommodated for sit-down lunches, while a changing room has been converted into a cellar to support a new bar in the main pavilion area.

Future plans include a new car park, a second cricket square, including a non-grass wicket, and possible funding for floodlit 3G football.

Peter Butler, chairman of Essex and Southend Sports Trust and a general committee member of Essex County Cricket Club, said: "The people of Southend together with the new community interest company have made substantial progress over the last year. Garon Park is well on the way to becoming a sporting hub of which the town can be really proud."

Peter Butler, chairman of Essex and Southend Sports Trust and a general committee member of Essex County Cricket Club, said: "The people of Southend together with EASST have contributed many thousands of pounds in donations, grants and supporting fundraising events to finance developments at Garon Park over the last decade. The new community interest company has made substantial progress over the last year. Garon Park is well on the way to becoming a sporting hub of which the town can be really proud. It is a role model for community participation in sport."

As well as the international fixtures, Essex Second XI will use Garon Park for two 50-over contests with MCC YCs next week, with the latter entertaining the Netherlands in a two-day match, between Tuesday June 14-17.

Gulls snap up rated midfielder May from Hornchurch

Football

RYMAN PREMIER League Canvey Island have announced the signing of tenacious central midfielder Joey May from Essex rivals AFC Hornchurch.

May links up with the Gulls after a three-year stint at Bridge Avenue. He also enjoyed a short loan spell with Tilbury in October 2014.

Speaking to the club's official website about his latest capture, Gulls manager Danny Heale said: "I've been keeping a close eye on Joey for over a year and feel he will add even more quality to our options in the middle of the park.

"He is a very talented player who makes good decisions and I'm pleased that he's agreed to sign for us."
